Social media professional with direct real-estate content experience and a seasonal track record running brand accounts on Instagram and Facebook. At Inmobiliatica.com I supported content and social media for an online real-estate platform judged on inquiries generated, not likes, the same conversion standard this role sets. As a Community Manager I planned and shipped 15 posts a month across Instagram and Facebook for three consecutive summer seasons, writing each account into its own established brand voice. At BBVA I now resolve 50+ customer queries a week in real time, keeping tone warm and turnaround fast under volume. Based in Argentina with advanced written and spoken English, I am ready to bring that same discipline to a founder's voice and a live-show comment section.

- Brand-voice adaptation: wrote captions across multiple local brand accounts, each in its own established voice and identity, not a single generic tone.
- Real-time engagement: resolve 50+ customer queries a week live at BBVA, staying warm and on-time under volume, the same real-time discipline a live comment section demands.
- Content calendar & consistency: monthly publishing plans shipped reliably across three consecutive seasons, adapted to what was actually performing on each platform.
