Marketing professional with about two years combining content and social media management for local brands with conversion-focused web copy for a real-estate platform, hands-on experience planning, building and launching web projects end to end, and a genuine daily habit of using AI tools for research and content drafting with disciplined output-checking. Currently applies that same organized, deadline-driven approach at BBVA Argentina, resolving 50+ customer queries per week with accuracy as the standard. Independently researched, planned, built and deployed three production web projects (Next.js, Astro) using Claude Code and the Gemini API for research and drafting, always verifying outputs against real data rather than trusting them. New to WordPress, with only basic, self-taught Figma knowledge, but has repeatedly picked up unfamiliar web stacks from a standing start and shipped real, live products on them.

Core Competencies

- AI tools for research & drafting: daily, hands-on use of Claude Code (agentic coding) and the Gemini API to research, draft and verify content across three deployed web products, always checking outputs before acting on them rather than using AI exploratively.
- Website projects, planning through launch: independently researched, planned, built and shipped three web projects end to end on Next.js and Astro, including sitemap and content-structure decisions and a self-built SEO tool that audits real page titles and meta descriptions for on-page fixes – see Independent Projects below.
- Content planning & web copy: planned and published 15 posts/month on Instagram and Facebook for local brands across three consecutive seasons; wrote enquiry-driving web copy for a real-estate platform.
- Cross-team coordination under deadlines: currently resolves 50+ customer queries per week on live banking systems at BBVA; previously coordinated content timing directly with brand stakeholders each season as a Community Manager.
- Fast platform learner: no WordPress experience yet and only basic, self-taught Figma knowledge, but shipped production sites on two unfamiliar stacks (Next.js, Astro) from a standing start.
- Languages: Spanish (native), English (advanced).
